

DROP-OFFS, SORTING AND RECOVERED STOCK

A battery fire can ignite stored bales.

You sort materials, run balers and accept drop-offs or commercial loads. Declare incoming batteries and peak stock values; insured physical loss, machinery failure and accepted runoff cleanup differ from market losses.

RISKS WORTH DISCUSSING

- 01 Battery fires spreading through stock
- 02 Internal baler or conveyor failures
- 03 Visitor injuries at public drop-offs

Scan to get a quote today

Or call
800-777-1872

Coverage worth discussing

Commercial property

Insured facilities and accepted recovered stock.

Equipment breakdown

Internal failures of accepted balers/conveyors.

Environmental liability

Cleanup under accepted dust/runoff release terms.

General liability

Covered visitor injury at accepted drop-off premises.

Workers compensation

Benefits for qualifying sorting/handling injuries.

Coverage is subject to policy terms and exclusions.

Why The Southern Agency

01 Listen

We review your operations, coverage and past claims.

02 Assess

We look at hazards and ways to reduce risk.

03 Build

We compare carriers, premiums and audit terms.

04 Support

We revisit coverage as your work changes.

SCAN TO

Read the full guide

800-777-1872

TheSouthernAgency.com